

Archengg was established in 1994 as an individual architectural and structural design firm in Islamabad to set-forth new dimensions of creativity with sound technical strengths incorporating advance technologies in the field of Architectural & Structural Designing. The arch-team consists of versatile, qualified architects, interior designers and structural engineers. The firm grew into a private limited company in 2007 combining all architecture and engineering practices.